PMDB Instructor Needed for an Online Program

The Behavioral Medicine Research and Training Foundation (CE) and Saybrook University (matriculated elective in the doctoral psychophysiology program) offer the pelvic floor training course that has been accredited by BCIA for many years. Rich Sherman, the director of both programs has been teaching it, but his administrative responsibilities in these entities has increased and we're looking for an instructor who is BCIA certified with BCP to take over. All courses are distance learning so they take place online via email or web-based meetings (BMRTF) or email and Canvas Instructure (Saybrook). Thus, you can teach from anywhere. The course needs some updating to meet current blueprint requirements and subsequent reaccreditation, so there would be some preliminary work before starting with students.

If this is something you're interested in undergoing, please send us an email at rsherman@behavmedfoundation.org with your interest and CV, which includes your experience with pelvic floor disorders as well as any teaching experience.

Thank you,
Rich Sherman, Director
Cynthia Kerson, Asst. Director
