

Sadar Psychological and Sports Center
Phoenixville, PA
Fee for Service Position

We are seeking a fee for service clinician to join our team. The case load would be comprised of clients who are seeking psychotherapy as well as those who are actively pursuing biofeedback and neurofeedback training at our office and would benefit from therapy as part of their comprehensive treatment plan. The position offers a balance of individual clients, entirely under the clinician's care as well as clients that are receiving multiple services. Many of our clients seek to reduce or avoid medication and are health conscious. For those pursuing biofeedback, our initial assessment includes measures of diet, exercise, electronic use, and sleep. Many of these clients have complex issues such as autism, RAD, trauma or chronic pain.

Requirements include

- Interest in working with children and adults.
- Minimum two "after school" shifts per week.
- Interest in learning biofeedback.
- Current PA license.

Sadar Psychological and Sports Center is nationally recognized in the biofeedback field. In addition to teaching the national certification course, we mentor clinicians for their certification in biofeedback and neurofeedback, and receive referrals internationally. We offer regular APA approved continuing education, flexible scheduling, strong administrative support and a generous fee split. Preference is given to BCIA certified applicants or applicants who will become certified within the first year of hire.

Interested applicants are encouraged to review our website and send letter of interest to: angelika@sadarpsych.com